A Weekly Feature From The Carbon Students' Union

Mrs. E. Ritchie, our primary teacher was a week-end visitor to Calgary.

Mr. Lambert was late for school Wednesday morning. What's the attraction at Trochu?

Mr. Todd must have been a bit flustered the other day when he said to Pete Gablehouse, "Seat take your Petel"

Some students visited the city lately. Don McLeod to get a new suit—hold it girls! and Phyllis Schuler was down too, wonder if that was a shopping expedition?

Lora Lambert and Thelma Todd enjoyed themselves at the Anglican whist drive on Friday night but their mothers however were unable to attend. Lora had the good fortune to win a prize—the booby.

Control of Canada Thistle

The most common cause of failure in eradicating Canada Thistle by the summerfallow method is neglect of the fallow field during and after harvest. Cultivation must be continued right through until freeze-up.

There are a number of summerfallow fields in this municipality which have been neglected, allowing the thistles to become well established. When this is allowed to happen the root system of the thistle is replenished with food material and the effect of previous cultivations are practically nullified.

There is still sufficient time to get two more operations on the thistle patches. The Buckfoot cultivator is a very useful implement for this job. The last operation should be deep and just before freeze-up. Good results have been obtained by cultivation after the ground is frozen a few inches deep.

It is a good idea to work the thistle patches in the stubble fields as well as those in the summerfallow. Disturbing the root system of the thistle this time of year helps weaken it, thus assisting greatly in the eradication the next year.

Farmers whose land is badly infested with thistles should give serious thought to sowing a crop other than wheat next spring. Olli barley sown early at a heavy rate with fertilizer will be ready to cut before the thistles go to seed. This allows a considerable period after the crop has been taken off, for fall cultivation.

A recent bulletin entitled, "The Control of Canada and Sow Thistle" is obtainable at the municipal office, Three Hill

Fire Destroys Rockyford Garage

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a machine shop and garage on Thursday last, owned by Viggo Petersen.

Amount of the loss was unascertained but only half was believed covered by insurance. In the garage were a caterpillar tractor, two trucks and an automobile.

The blaze was reported by Mrs. Edna Smith, assistant to the town postmaster, who saw flames shooting from the building, as she proceeded to the post office at 6 a.m.

Citizens organized a bucket brigade to quell the fire, only other equipment available, consisting of hand fire extinguishers. At one time it was feared the Rockyford community hall would fall victim to the flames which several times ignited its roof. All windows were broken by the heat.

Mr. Petersen has operated the garage for about four years.

OFF THE RECORD

A lot of complaining has been done against the huge reparations bills made against enemy countries in World War II for losses suffered. What did they expect, a profit?

Claim That Young People Of Canada Do A Lot Of Loafing

CALGARY.—Canadian youth spends its time talking, listening to the radio, reading, dating and dancing, going to movies and loafing, according to a survey of problems confronting the young people of the Dominion, made recently by the Canadian youth commission.

Ernest McEwen of Ottawa, secretary of the recreation and leisure time division of the Canadian welfare council, discussed the findings and recommendations of the report at a meeting sponsored by the council of social agencies.

"It is an alarming fact that 16 per cent. of our boys and girls, 15 to 24 years of age, have no creative activities and have found nothing more profitable to do but waste their spare time," he said.

Tenants "Frozen"

Tenants of housing accommodation are still "frozen" according to N. Primrose, rentals officer for the Alberta region of the Prices Board. As a general rule under present rental regulations tenants cannot be evicted for any reason if they pay their rent promptly and are in the generally accepted term "well behaved."

Misunderstanding regarding these regulations has arisen because of the slight change in the regulations respecting shared accommodation. Formerly a tenant could not be asked to vacate shared accommodation during the winter months, but now under Board Order No. 649 tenants of shared accommodation can be asked to vacate by the landlord giving 6 months' notice on a form provided by the Board. This notice may require the tenant to vacate at any time during the year.

Shared accommodation is the only type of housing accommodation where tenants may be asked to vacate at any time.

Apple Prices Up

Maximum prices permitted for the 1946 crop of apples will average about five cents per bushel over the 1945 prices the Prices Board has announced. However, at the present time apples in both the east and west are selling at somewhat below the prices allowed.

Last year, as a result of the very light crop in Eastern Canada, eastern apple prices were increased considerably over the 1944 levels. Under the new order eastern and western prices are brought into closer relationship by a five cent per bushel decrease in eastern Canada and a five cent increase in British Columbia.

In previous years the date on which storage allowances were authorized varied according to the variety of apples. In the revised order storage allowances on all varieties begin November 1.

Nobody Reads The Paper

"Nobody reads the paper so why advertise?" say some merchants. Yet advertising experts of national concerns, men who demand and get vested, yearly give a big share of their advertising appropriation to weekly papers.

Nobody reads the paper yet if the editor gets the mumps, the linotype breaks down or anything else happens to delay the paper the post office and editor are swamped with calls from indignant subscribers.

Nobody reads the paper, but let the editor misspell one name in an obscure item buried at the bottom of an inside page and 20 readers will "kid" him about it before the paper has been out two hours.

Nobody reads the paper, then why do the local publicity hounds bedevil the editor for favorable notices? And why are politicians so eager for the support of the paper?

Nobody reads the paper, yet the delinquent subscriber roars to high heaven when his subscription is stopped.

scription is stopped.

Nobody reads the paper, then why in the name of common sense is a man so anxious to keep his misdeeds from being published?

EXERCISE FOR HEALTH

Exercise, like food, should be enjoyable to be truly beneficial says an authority in the department of national health and welfare. Do you sit without sag and stand without strain? If not you may need exercise. Learn to play every day and to be as alert in body as in mind.

DIPHTHERIA WARNING

In a special message to parents of pre-school children the department of national health and welfare warns that diphtheria is still a public enemy. It is pointed out that all children should be inoculated with diphtheria toxoid, preferably during their first year. Parents are advised to keep in constant touch with their physicians and the department points out that the toxoid is the only safe means of fighting the disease.

GENERAL

Q What are Canada Savings Bonds?

A Canada Savings Bonds are the successor to Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. They are your country's promise to return your money to you at any time and to pay you interest at an attractive rate.

Q Why are Canada Savings Bonds being offered?

A Because during the war, millions of Canadians learned the savings habit by buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. A recent survey shows that 82% of them want to keep on saving by a similar plan.

Q Is the Government selling Canada Savings Bonds just to raise money?

A No. Borrowing needs of the Government can be met by other types of loans. The main purpose of the Canada Savings Bond is to provide Canadians with a convenient way to continue this kind of saving and investment in peacetime.

Q Is there any limit to the amount of Canada Savings Bonds that one person may hold? If so, why?

A Yes. There is a limit of $2,000 for each individual, but each member of a family may hold bonds up to the limit.

Q What is the price of Canada Savings Bonds?

A 100%. That is, a $100 bond costs $100. If payment is not completed on or before November 15th, 1946, interest will be added to the purchase price.

Q In what denominations are Canada Savings Bonds available?

A $50, $100, $500 and $1,000.

CASHING OF BONDS

Q Can I cash my bond at any time before November 1, 1946?

A Yes, any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will cash your bond immediately at full face value, plus interest at 2 1/4%, upon your identification as the registered holder.

Q Can Canada Savings Bonds be assigned or transferred?

A They can be cashed, but not assigned or transferred. This is necessary to prevent any individual from acquiring more than the authorized limit.

INTEREST COUPONS

Q What interest is paid on Canada Savings Bonds?

A 2 1/4%—payable yearly on November 1st from 1947 to 1956, by coupon cashable without charge at any branch in Canada of any bank.

Q Are interest coupons registered?

A No. They are payable to bearer.

REGISTRATION PROTECTION

Q Why is it necessary to register Canada Savings Bonds?

A Registration gives protection in case your bond is lost, stolen or destroyed. It is also the simplest way to ensure that individuals do not hold more than the $2,000 limit.

Q In whose name can Canada Savings Bonds be registered?

A They can be registered only in the name of one individual, adult or minor, up to the amount of the authorized limit.

Q Can Canada Savings Bonds registered in the name of a child be cashed?

A Yes. Banks are familiar with the necessary regulations.

Q Can Canada Savings Bonds be disposed of when registered in the name of a deceased person?

A Yes, any bank will supply the necessary information.

Q Can I replace my Canada Savings Bonds, if they are lost, stolen or destroyed?

A Yes. It is wise, however, to keep Canada Savings Bonds in a safe place, as you would any other valuable documents. In case of loss you should immediately notify the Bank of Canada, Ottawa, of the circumstances.

HOW, WHEN AND WHERE TO BUY

Q Where can I buy Canada Savings Bonds?

A At any branch of a bank or from an authorized investment dealer, stock broker, trust or loan company — or through the payroll savings plan if this is in operation at your place of employment.

Q How do I pay for Canada Savings Bonds?

A In any of the following 3 ways:

1. By payment in full at time of purchase.
2. By monthly instalments through a bank, trust or loan company.
3. By regular deductions from pay, where employers operate the Payroll Savings Plan.

No Increase in Milk Served in Restaurants

"No change will be allowed in the price of milk by the glass or in the price of other dairy products affected by any milk control board decision to allow an increase in price of milk without application to the War-time Prices Board."

Such applications will not be considered unless the overall picture of any business warranted an increase.

"Restaurants are not in the business of selling milk by the glass. They are in business to sell meals. Just because there has been an increase in the price of milk as has been the case with other foods too, restaurant operators may not raise the price on any part of the meals they sell," said a Prices Board spokesman.

Coupons Expire

Most coupons Q1 to Q4 in the No. 5 ration book and M51 to M55 in the new book and butter coupons R18 to R21 in the old book and B26 to B28 in the new, will become invalid for the purchase of these commodities after October 31.

At the same time all temporary ration coupons for butter, meat and sugar, unnumbered and bearing a beaver design, will also expire in the hands of consumers. Beaver coupons for evaporated milk, only, will continue to be valid.

Consumers holding unused Beaver coupons may, on application to a local ration board have them exchanged for the new Buffalo coupons.

CANNED MILK UP

Following the government's decision to discontinue the producers' subsidy on concentrated milk products, the W.P.T.B. has announced an order, effective October 1, allowing a price increase on evaporated milk equivalent to the amount of subsidy formerly paid, 35c per case of 48 tins. To the consumer this will mean a three quarter cent increase per 16 ounce tin.

A Different Objective

One of the easiest things man does is to accept a habit. As the various Victory Loan campaigns approached during the war years, about the first question a citizen asked was "What is the objective this time?" Since money was needed to win the war and to take care of our men and women in uniform, the money objective in each campaign became a challenge to Canadian people.

Naturally, when the new issue of Canada Savings Bonds was announced, men and women promptly asked, "What is the objective this time?" And as they got the answer, "There is no money objective," they were momentarily puzzled. A sale of bonds without a goal in mind just didn't seem fitting and wasn't easy to understand.

It is literally true that no prescribed sum of dollars is sought during the sale of Canada Savings Bonds which opens on October 15th. This sale was not prompted by a desire to fill up the money bags of the government treasury. It is being launched to meet the keen desire of thousands of Canadians to continue their program of regular savings inaugurated by the Victory Loan and War Savings Certificates campaigns during the war years.

However, there is an objective associated with the approaching sale of bonds to the public. It might be described as the determination of those who are responsible for the sale of bonds in all provinces of Canada that all citizens shall have an opportunity to buy bonds. That is why the story of the canvass of the new Canada Savings Bonds is being so widely told, and why investment dealers and the banks are setting up facilities which will enable citizens to buy, no matter where they may be located.

Put another way, each Canadian sets up his own objective this time. Canada Savings Bonds have been created to help a man help himself.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. STRANGE

WORLD OF WHEAT...
The Blessings of Freer Trade

Mr. Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer for the British government on September 24th informed a press conference at Ottawa that Britain was anxious to get multi-lateral world trading established at the earliest possible moment. He believed, he said, in much freer world trade.

On August 15, before the Paris Peace Conference, the Hon. Mr. Alexander, one of Britain's official delegates to that conference, stated the firm opposition of the British government to bi-lateral trading between individual countries, which, he said, was restrictive in nature. Here Mr. Alexander too expressed himself in favor of multi-lateral trading and freer international trade.

This is all mighty good news for our prairie farmers to hear for the simple fact is that there does not exist anywhere in the world a group of three million people, living and working in one farming area, who depend so much for their prosperity on freer international trade as do our prairie people, or who stand to be harmed so much by these vicious bi-lateral trade agreements. We can hope, therefore that the bi-lateral trade agreements which Britain has already made are merely temporary expedients, and that they will be abrogated as soon as freer international trade can be set up in this sad, complex, worried economic world. In the meantime, Canada could well set an example by lowering her own tariffs against British and foreign goods.

By DR. F. J. GREANEY,

Director,
Line Elevators Farm Service,
Winnipeg, Manitoba.

A Complete Seed Testing Service

For the benefit of prairie farmers, Line Elevators Farm Service maintains and operates one of the most modern cereal seed testing laboratories in Canada. It is well equipped and efficiently staffed. This year it will undertake to make a complete clinical examination of farmers' seed samples of wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax. This examination will include the following important tests:

1. Germination. High value will be attached to the ability of the seed to germinate and produce strong plants.

2. Weed Seeds. Samples will be examined for the presence of weed seeds, particularly seeds of noxious weeds.

3. Smuts. All samples of wheat, oats and barley will be tested for surface-borne smut. Seed treatment recommendations will be made.

4. Other Diseases. The presence of seedling blight and other seed-borne diseases will be reported.

5. Mechanical Injury. This test is particularly important for flax. Other samples will be examined for severe embryo and seed coat injury.

6. Purity of Variety. This is strictly a growing test and will be confined to wheat. Samples will be grown in the field next summer and analysed for varietal purity.

No effort will be spared to make these tests as reliable as possible. All methods of testing will be essentially similar to those developed and employed by the seed and plant pathological laboratories of the Dominion Government.

Farmers should submit samples for testing to their nearest Line Elevator agent as soon as possible, and inform him as to the tests required. Samples must be at least 4 ounces and not more than 6 ounces of cleaned seed, and should be truly representative of the seed lot from which they were taken. Line Elevator agents will provide suitable envelopes and forward the samples to Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg.

SHORTENING COMING

Housewives unable to bake pies and cakes because of insufficient shortening will be glad to learn there are substantial shipments of edible vegetable oils on the way to Canada from Argentina.

A Prices Board official said additional supplies of shortening, derived from the vegetable oils, would be on storekeepers shelves by November in sufficient quantities to "definitely alleviate the present short supply."

Leader Of Public Opinion Must Think Not Of One Section But Of Welfare Of The Nation

UNDER the heading of "Arousing the giant that is public opinion," Allan Nevins, professor of American History at Columbia University, contributed the following comment in the magazine section of the New York Times: There are many currents, eddies and strands in public opinion. Propagandist bodies, selfish cliques and pressure groups all try to palm themselves off as representing dominant mass sentiment. Prejudices, passions and discrepant interests assist in keeping the great sea of national thought and emotion in fluctuation.

In wartime the unity of public opinion is marked by its elevation. In reconstruction, when the national fabric is being reshaped in ways which necessarily profit some and penalize others, a particularistic selfishness tends to corrode opinion. How can we lessen such corrosion and release forces which will challenge national idealism? How can we call public opinion forth? How can we make sure that it asserts itself with general if not invariable common sense and rectitude?

However the methods change, the vital principles in evoking the best of the forces latent in democratic opinion remain the same. Three in number, they have not altered since public opinion was effectively born in Britain, America and France in the eighteenth century.

The first principle is the importance of the leader, the dominating individuality. The best kind of leader, the people always feel instinctively, is the man who thinks not of party or section, but of the welfare of the whole nation. The masses have never failed to rise to a Pitt, Peel or Gladstone who tried to speak in the interests of all Britain, or to a Jackson, Lincoln and Wilson equally intent on the good for the whole of America. The public have almost never failed to stick by such men.

Sectional leaders get cast aside. The real statesmen always lift the citizens to their own level. The British used to say that the tone and ability of Parliament rose and fell with the Prime Minister guiding it.

The second element in calling for the best side of public opinion is a program. We do not need a five-year plan—but we do need something substantially its equivalent. Taken together leadership and a program can evoke enthusiasm, and enthusiasm is the vitalizing force of opinion.

Before the World War broke upon us, such national purpose as we had—and we had plenty of it—was mainly embodied in the New Deal. Back of that lay other programs: the New Freedom of Wilson, the New Nationalism of Theodore Roosevelt, the new social justice program of the Populists and Progressives. Paint a program upon the skies, hold it up to the gaze of the nation with fervent conviction, and men will begin to forget petty advantages and greeds.

The third principles in quickening opinion, and doubtless the most vital, was identified by Carl Schurz. "I have had an active part in many political campaigns, and probably addressed as many popular meetings as any man now living," he wrote in old age, "and I have always found that whenever any public question under discussion had in it any moral element, an appeal to the moral sense of the people proved invariably the most powerful factor."

This elementary fact always escapes the cheaper type of politician. "Vote yourself a farm—or a bonus." Vote down controls and vote up the price of wheat." This, they think, is the easy path to election and power. They little know that, by and large, and in the long run, the solid citizen despises such appeals.

The fact is that never, from the days the rafters of Faneuil Hall rang with the voices of men willing to die for independence, to the days when Americans sacrificed part of their sovereignty to ratify the work of Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco, have the people failed for very long to respond to a clear appeal to their best instincts. They have their selfish moments. But their real power is exerted upon a challenge to their duty.

This popular instinct is quite sound. The occasions when public opinion has made its worst errors in America are when it has yielded to the baser kind of leader counselling sordid impulses. In 1866 the demagogues rallied the people to a vengeful Reconstruction policy in the South; in 1918 and 1920 they seduced the voters into repudiation of the generous and sagacious policy of international co-operation and collective security formulated by Wilson. Disaster followed both steps. Conversely, the occasions when public opinion has scored its greatest gains for the welfare of the people are those upon which it has followed elevated and generous paths. Let the Congressmen and Senators now canvassing for votes remember this fact!

British-American Agents Recover Hoard In Germany

FRANKFURT.—British and United States agents seized precious stones and metals possibly exceeding $10,000,000 in value and arrested hundreds of Germans in the largest joint British-American operation in Germany since the dissolution of supreme headquarters, it was announced.

Swooping suddenly on 367 selected places in the two zones, the raiders recovered a vast hoard of diamonds, gold, silver and platinum. A spokesman said it was "conjectural but conceivable" that the hoard may have been designed to finance "a resurgence of German nationalist movements."

Clues to the hiding places came from typically thorough German records of the Reichstelle fuer Edelmetalle (Reich agency for precious metals) which told how the hoard had been dispersed before the war's end in an attempt to keep it from falling into allied hands.

Tabulation of confiscated materials was not complete, but from 79 places—less than a quarter of the total number of points raided—about $2,500,000 in precious stones and metals was recovered, the spokesman said. He indicated the total may run above $10,000,000.

Before the introduction of printing into Europe in the 15th century, books were handwritten and bound by monks.

Control Commission Leaders Would Establish Democracy Among Germans In British Zone

(By Ross Munro)

BERLIN.—Through the German press, radio, books and entertainment, British control commission leaders are seeking to re-establish democratic thinking and the democratic ways of life among 22,000,000 Germans in the British zone. Stress is laid on the function and importance of newspapers and 34 papers now are running under British control. Allotted 1,250 tons of newsprint a month, these four-page dailies have a total circulation of about 4,500,000, providing approximately one paper for every five Germans.

With the exception of one British daily in Hamburg with a circulation of 250,000 daily, all papers are run by Germans and operate under British license. The chief difficulty facing the British information organization which handles newspaper problems is to get capable Germans to run German papers.

The largest British licensed German paper is the Berlin Telegraph, a Socialist sheet with circulation of more than 400,000 daily. This is larger than any Russian licensed Communist paper in Germany. The Telegraph wields tremendous influence in Berlin, where the current conflict between Communists and Socialists focuses.

Papers operating under British license include 12 Socialist, seven Christian Democrat and two Communist. The remainder are either non-party or run by small groups.

In explaining the newspaper situation to Empire Press Union delegates here, British officials said licensed papers are not censored when being published, but teams of British officers keep an eye on what is printed and check up editors who go too far.

Editors are told not to publish anything severely critical of other Allied powers. Criticism of the British is permitted in some degree but more scope for criticism is allowed in regard to military government.

German-operated papers have not caused the British any serious trouble and no editors have had to be removed so far.

Papers give considerable space to foreign news which they receive by wire from the British-sponsored German news service, carrying 30,000 to 40,000 words a day.

In the radio field the main station of the British zone is at Hamburg, which has one 100-kilowatt transmitter and three subsidiary ones. This Hamburg station was one from Nazis that all news and all broadcasts throughout the war.

Broadcasting has not yet been handed over to the Germans and all key positions are in British hands. It will take a long time to eliminate the deep-seated belief imbued by the Nazis that all news and all broadcasts are simply propaganda.

The British hope eventually to open 40 information centres throughout the zone and in Berlin, where the Germans can get newspapers, magazines and books giving information on democracy and the British Commonwealth.
